Dedication

To Mr. Iverson: With sincere and genuine appreciation of your twenty-six years of unselfish service as an instructor, and as a co-worker in the furthering of all things for the good of the students, we, the Senior Class of 1935, respectfully dedicate this Twentieth Edition of the Quit-Qui-Oc

Foreword

THE main reason for the publication of the Quit-Qui-Oc by the Senior Class may be found in the human desire to own some tangible remembrance of classmates and associations known during the four years spent at the Plymouth High School.

The Staff has endeavored to include within the covers of this Twentieth Edition of the Annual a descriptive and pictorial glimpse of life in school, its organized work, its organized play, its honors and ideals, and various activities; all in their relationship to the greatest aim, the development of personality.

Youth is the theme selected for this edition of the Quit-Qui-Oc. The Staff realized that the youth of the nation are the trustees of posterity, and that adolescence is the period in life of building up in habits, and hopes, and faiths. It is the opportunity to do something and be somebody.

As time goes on this book will become more and more of a treasure. When the memory of the struggles and pleasures of the school year has been dimmed, it will serve as a stimulating memoir of many faces, friendships, impressions and pleasant experiences of the care-free and happy school days of youth.

Senior Class

The time is almost here when we, the senior class of '35 shall march as a unit for the last time down the aisle of the auditorium.

One hundred and four seniors, the largest graduating class in the history of Plymouth High School, will receive their diplomas on June 7. To us it will become a memorial evening to be looked back upon; the beginning of a new life after which we no longer work together as a unit but as individuals with hopes, aspirations, and ambitions to drive us onward to great accomplishments.

Looking back on the four unforgetable, happy years we have lived and worked as a part of the great body composing this building, we find that our class leaves an excellent record of participations in phases of the school's life and activities. We aided in launching a number of successful organizations: the Senate, the student legislative body and the strongest assembly in school; the Lost and Found department which takes care of found articles until identified by their owners; the Intra-Murals, an organization for boys who do not go out for varsity athletics. We have been represented in Orchestra, Band, Glee Clubs, Track, Basketball, and Football—which this year excelled all other P. H. S. football teams by coming out of the league undefeated. Last, we had the privilege of having the first Prom and a very successful one in the high school gym.

In speaking of our accomplishments we do so with an extension of thanks to Mr. Senty, our class advisors, our instructors—especially Mr. Iverson for his assistance with the annual, and our parents and friends for the time, help, and patience they have given us.

Our class advisors, well worthy of mention, have been:

1931-32 ..... Miss Pells (Mrs. Carlton) and Mr. Draeger
1932-33 ..... Miss Miller (Mrs. Shaw) and Mr. Zimmerman
1933-34 ..... Miss Miller and Mr. Splitgerber
1934-35 ..... Miss Miller, Miss Johnson and Mr. Williams

Class Prophecy

New York, New York
June 30, 1950

Dear Advisor,

The Senior Class of 1935 was sorry that you could not attend its reunion because of the infirmities of age. As you were our advisor when we were graduated, we thought that you might be interested in knowing what some of the old students are now doing.

The honor of writing to you has been given to me and I shall try to portray for you the lives of my old classmates as I learned of them at the reunion yesterday.

James Hughes and his little wife, formerly Monica Reilly, have just won an Irish marathon dance held in Dublin. This happy couple as well as Mary O'Malley and Eugene Reilly went to the Emerald Island to spend their lives in the quaint little town of their forefathers.

Dishwashing as an art? True! Bernice Steinke is a dishwasher in an orphan's home. The janitor of the building, Clarence Wetzel, is quite interested in her. Ruth Mueller, the matron, and Bernard Zinkgraf, the chef, also find this line of work agreeable.

Marion Radloff and Rae Jane Libke have recognized ability and grace in dancing and are accomplished ballet dancers in Chicago. Bernice Comins and Vivian Metzner are still the good little girls they always have been and believe in modesty as the chief virtue of femininity.

The report made by Lester Ribbeck for the past week was as follows: two cups broken, three glasses cracked, eight bars of soap used, and eighteen dirty towels. The boys of Hillside Apartments in Milwaukee—Harold Wittkopp, Armand Ward, Lester Ribbeck, and Carl Radloff—were assigned the household duties for the past week. Next week it will be the girls turn—the former Clorinda Schmoll, Gertrude Schultz, Lucille Liebenstein, and Edna Nelson. These eight chums have found housekeeping quite an intricate art, especially Lester.

Ruth Van Wagner is a singer in a famous club house. Her good friend, Mary Ann Berg, is a dietition at the club but she just can't keep Vanie's waistline down. While traveling through China recently, Marjorie Cramer met an old schoolmate of hers. It was Billy Bade, who was flirting with a quaint little Tang Chow from the shade of a jinricksha.

Henry Balde and Hilda Bergin used to make eyes at each other in history class. Now they hold hands across a breakfast table.

A contest to see who could eat the most "ice-cream" was held in Ripon recently and won by two girls there: DeLores Streicher and Angeline Guhl who both weigh over 200 pounds.

A quartet, composed of Wilbur Kalk, tenor; Evelyn Bade, contralto; Dorothy Dees, soprano; and Amos Prietzel, bass, are touring the country. Their next appearance will be at Johnsonville High School of which Joseph Mayhew is the principal. Important faculty members of Joseph's school are: history instructor, Shirley Adams; Latin and Greek teacher, Ernestine Wilsman; and agricultural director, Eugene Wifler.

At a carnival recently held in Plymouth were seen Gerhard Schwenzen who performed acrobatic stunts; Pearl Smith who tap-danced; (her motto is, "Blondes For Me") and a graceful duet dance by Johnny Schellpfeffer and Edward Weber.

Golf champions of 1950 are the all famous brothers, Darwin and Erwin Laack. Harold Miller is a good authority on Holsteins.

The new kindergarten teacher at Plymouth, Isabel Anhalt, has as her most regular and attentive student, Alvin Frantz.

David Holbrook spends his time trying out new hair tonics to flatten his flaming glory.

Earl Noel, the Romeo for whom everyone falls, wanted a job where he was sure to have an audience so he tried preaching and is now President of the International Missionary Society. His secretary is Irene Schuette.

The crooning idol of Radio-land is none other than Ronald Sieber. A recent network broadcast included such renowned persons as Caroline Zemke, who sang a soprano solo, and George Schmidt with a piccolo solo.

A nation wide search is being carried on for Dorothy Rauland who has just run away from home. Her parents are trying to locate her. Watson and Sherlock Holmes on the job are Armand Manthei and Gordon Nicolaus. This reminds me of Elwood Erbstoeszer the great detective, who is working on the Lindbergh case which is still unsolved.

The cheese house of Plymouth believes in employing pretty and attractive girls, so they have kept five of the old classmates, namely: Margaret Baker, Beverly Keiser, Marie Mayer, Dorothy Radloff, and Lorraine Skillicorn. Also in Plymouth, is Bernice Franzen who is the city nurse.

A Siamese-twin act was put on in a noted club recently by our two friends Helen DeZwarte and Cordell Emley.

Marie Jochman, I gathered, was safely tucked away in a little love nest on a mink farm with Cloyd Kurtz. Jack Reihman, as well as Gordon Winn, are famous oculists. No wonder so many of my girl friends are wearing glasses. There's a reason for everything they say.

Willard Bidlingmaier is busy building a bungalow for his little wife, Clarice Collins. Rumors have it that Myrna Meyer's chief interest is the old flame from Falls. Beulah Eichenberger is the wife of a famous boxer in Chicago.

Gertrude Graef and Viola Guhl are capable rural school teachers who often get together and talk over their school ma'am problems.

Wilfred Payne is known to all of us as the second Dempsey, while Dorothy Siebenaler is the Dean of Women at a Chicago College.

Jannette Blanke, superintendent of the Columbia Hospital in Milwaukee, has two interests in life: her career and the handsome young interne she just met. Elvira Manthei is a widely known woman lawyer in New York. Her chief interest is her career and lawyers! !

The faculty of the Elkhart High School boasts three of our classmates: Ann Alein Zinkgraf as the instructor of Home Economics; Wayne Pool as the music director with Jack Seeber as his assistant.

Clara Rortvedt is the president of a woman's club which writes criticisms of modern authors. They lately disparaged the fantastic novel of Marie Mueller who is a disciple of Gertrude Stein and has used one of her remarks as the name of her book—"I Never Say No, Not In America."

Staff members of the Plymouth Review include: Haldis Bredesen, Editor; Elaine Leifer, Assistant Editor; Reporters, Louise Kalk, Margaret Knauer, and Evelyn Linstedt, of Plymouth; Grace Liebenstein of Batavia, and Doris Helf of Gillett.

Harold Hoeppner and Harold Koopmann have certainly turned out to be some big "he-men." Every day you can see Harold Hoeppner driving down the avenue in his big Dusenberg accompanied by Harold Koopmann who makes "goo-goo" eyes at all the girls.

The old class has produced two of the prominent chemists of 1950. They are Philip Limberg and James Krueger.

Roger Selk and Winfred Sinner are also known as "great men." They run a large farm on a new theory of "Command and it shall be done for you." Their chief commander, however, is Carl Corbett. He always did say there was nothing like life on a farm.

Kenny Lindsay is still "jus' driftin'" oftentimes repeating his favorite quotation about hours of sleep:

"Nature requires five; custom gives seven;
Laziness takes nine, and wickedness eleven."

Thelma Kachur and Salina Le Mahieu have retained all the dignity they possessed as seniors and have pledged their services to society as child psychologists.

LaVern and Lorena Fabian, two prodigious aviatresses, have made several record breaking flights in the past year.

Elton Blanke is a distinguished artist who recently won recognition for a sketch of Miss Florida, his model being Hazel Bubb.

Such was the result of the reunion of 1950. Time flies and I am sure that when I shall again meet my old classmates in fifteen more years, I shall see them in more interesting roles because of the wisdom acquired with age. I hope that those roles shall be as peasant as those of the past reunion. As you have probably learned by this time, dear advisor, high school diplomas do not end our education, for, if I may paraphrase Shakespeare, "Life's just a big school and all the men and women in it are but students."

Sincerely,
LaVernabelle Goelzer

Class Will

We, the class of 1935, Plymouth High School, do solemnly swear and testify this as being the last will and testament, hereby revoking all former wills, bequests and devises of whatever nature made by us.

ARTICLE I

We bequeath to the faculty:

To MR. SENTY—Our sincere gratitude for which we have received in the past years a preparation for the future and an essential to the conduct of life.

To MISS CARLYLE—An English teacher which will take up her classes and allow Miss Carlyle to devote all her time to the library and "Hi-Lights."

To MISS WILLARD—All the dramatic ability our class has shown during the four years.

To MR. WILLIAMS—More success in future season basketball ticket sales.

To MISS LUECKER—An opportunity to visit a Standard Oil Station in Plymouth. (They do have the best service.)

To MR. IVERSON—Two reels of motion pictures entitled "An Ideal Chemistry Class."

To MISS ISSERSTEDT—A set of Goodyear tires for her Whippet so that it may make many trips to Crystal Lake during future summers.

To MR. DRAEGER—A left handed monkey wrench and a glass tack hammer, to use in his future manual training classes.

To MR. SPLITGERBER—The problem "How to raise potatoes without peelings."

To MISS HASSE—A pair of reenforced ankles to aid her ice-skating.

To MR. FARWELL—Our ability to win football games.

To MRS. SHAW—Best wishes for a happy future. May your troubles be little ones.

To MISS KRAUSE—A car which will take her to Milwaukee whenever she wishes to go.

To MISS JOHNSON—A cottage in Florida which will furnish shelter to her during the cold Wisconsin days.

To MR. WOLFF—An absolute sound proof room in which to hold his 5th hour band practice. (Miss Isserstedt was annoyed this year.)

To MR. ZIMMERMAN—A bear trap in which to keep his "Ford" while it is parked. This will not be able to be opened by anyone except himself.

To MISS FRITZ—An anchor to hold down those feather weight biscuits which the "freshies" bake.

To MISS SHIFMAN—Three more library periods because she seemed to enjoy the one she had this year immensely.

To MR. LAUFENBERG—A winning debate team. Also a new name. (One which cannot be translated by German students.)

To MISS BEISSER—A "Ford" of her own.

To MISS SCHLENTER—A pair of roller skates to use in bringing announcements to class rooms.

ARTICLE II

We bequeath to the classes:

To the JUNIORS—Our honor and dignity which we know they have desired these many years.

To the SOPHS—The power to enforce traffic laws and keep the tardy rooms from becoming lonesome.

To the FRESHIES—All our athletic ability, they seem to have desired this year.

ARTICLE III

We bequeath to various individuals:

DAVID HOLBROOK—His physique to Jerome Hoehne.

CLARICE COLLINS—Her charming personality to Edwyanna Wittkopp.

ELWOOD ERBSTOESZER—His girl to anyone that is in need of one.

VIOLA GUHL—Her height to Geraldine Sanders.

HELEN DE ZWARTE—Half of her athletic ability to Jean Lammers and Lera Zoberlin.

ANGELINE GUHL—Her tap dancing ability to Alice Parrish.

HAROLD MILLER—His football suit to Hubert Manthei.

LA VERN FABIAN—Her modesty to Donald Schoenfeld.

JANNETTE BLANKE—Her superfluous flesh to Beatrice Butler.

JOE MAYHEW—His greeting "hello sweetheart" to Roland Strub.

RAE JANE LIBKE—Her art of winning smiles from the boys to Thelma De Munck.

EUGENE WIFLER—His manner of tantilizing Miss Isserstedt to Edward Guth.

JACK SEEBER—His excess freckles to Janet Leifer.

KENNETH LINDSAY—His permanent to Le Roy Koehler.

JAMES HUGHES—His tricky dance steps to Lyle Kaiser.

DOROTHY RAULAND—All her sweetness to Ray Andre.

GORDON WINN—His task of selling basketball tickets to anyone who wants it.

CORDELL EMLEY—Her boy friend to Hazel Warner.

LA VERNABELLE GOELZER—Her typing ability to Arlyle Wolff.

WILBUR KALK—His gum chewing aptitude to Otto Feitusch.

JAMES KRUEGER—His mathematical inclination to Ray Hill.

PHILIP LIMBERG—His love for the opposite sex to Elwood Nerhling.

LUCILLE LIEBENSTEIN and LESTER RIBBECK—Their ideas on love to Rosemary Corbett and Harold Reinecke.

WILLIAM BADE—His ability as an orator to Harold Limberg.

EARL NOEL—His tricky basketball plays to James Nelson.

LORRAINE SKILLICORN—Her fondness for English to Jean Schiereck.

CLORINDA SCHMOLL—Her musical ability to her brother Warren.

To the JANITORS—One year of rest.

The Student Senate, an organization composed of one representative from each home room, has been in existence for two years.

The Senate was introduced by Mr. Senty in 1933, to which classes, organizations, or individuals could bring their problems. It is the backbone and governing head of Plymouth High School.

After school was well under way elections were held in each home room to elect president, secretary, treasurer, a senator, and an alternate. The senators then represented the home room at senate meetings which were held every Monday morning during the Auditorium period. During this time the business problems of the Senate were taken up. The senators undertakings and achievements are:

The school president is nominated by the senate. The nominees for president must belong to the Senior class, have qualifications of good character, leadership, high scholarship, and participation in outside activities. The students nominated are presented before the school for election. Each nominee appoints his own campaign manager, who in a speech for his candidate before the assembly, gives plans which his candidate thinks the school might adopt.

The senate has been active in bringing entertainment to the school. Impersonations of Dicken's characters were given by Stanley Brooks. Harold Giving presented a talk on Arabians and their costumes. Musical programs such as the Brown-Menely Duo, and the Davies Light Opera singers also were put on. More programs are looked forward to.

The Senate took up the selling of season basket-ball tickets. Each senator takes care of the sales in his home room.

The Lost and Found department was a feature of the senate. A committee appointed by the president consisting of Wayne Pool, chairman; Wilfred Payne, assistant chairman; Elwood Erbstoeszer, Warren Wittkopp, Edward Leyhe, and James Hughes as auctioneers, took charge of the department. Persons that had lost articles could claim them on description of the article. The second time a person would come to claim an article a fine of one cent would be imposed. Auctions on all articles not claimed were held every two months.

The point system was put into effect this year with the result of some students having to give up some of the offices they had. A number of points are given to every activity in school. The point system has been devised so as to give more students a chance to hold offices.

The Senate has been a great success during the second year of its existence and it is hoped it will endure for many years to come.

The first semester Senate was composed of the following:

PRESS CLUB --- HI-LIGHTS

Thirty-three students, representing all the classes in P. H. S., made good in the three required try outs to become members of the Hi-Lights staff and Press Club during the fourth year of its existence.

The club has held meetings approximately every week since it was organized this year. Its members were instructed in the essentials of journalism by Miss Vera Carlyle, the advisor of the club and staff. Each meeting was two hours in length, the first hour being devoted to work and the second to entertainment.

Officers of the Press Club were: president, Ray Andre; vice-president, Marjorie Cramer; and secretary-treasurer, Eric Brown.

Editors for this year were Clara Rortvedt and Harriet Heincke, with Donald Schoenfeld, assistant editor. Ray Andre was business manager of the Hi-Lights and Eric Brown his assistant.

Debate Team

Resolved: That the Federal Government should give aid to equalize the educational opportunities in the states; this innocent group of words incited the heated arguments of the Plymouth Debate Teams this year.

Early in the school year Mr. Laufenberg organized a Debate Club. Before this organization the try outs for the team were made. The Affirmative was upheld by James Hughes, Elwood Nehrling and Jack Reihman. The Negative team was composed of Lois Senty, Robert Suhrke and Elvira Manthei. Raymond Andre was the alternate.

Besides many heated arguments between the local teams they met opponents from Sheboygan, Chilton, Kenosha.

There were two outstanding features in the debate work this year, the negative debated Sheboygan over radio station W. H. B. L. and the affirmative met Chilton over the radio at the station in DePere. The crowning event of the debate season came with the entering of the National Forensic Contest which was held at Carroll College, Waukesha.

All success was due the Coach, Mr. R. Laufenberg.

The Plymouth chapter Future Farmers of America was organized in 1928. The club helps to promote agricultural activities for local, state, and national farm groups; it teaches leadership, parliamentary procedure, oratory, and many essential farm activities, besides cooperating to promote a state and national program of farm work.

Students of this group who merited outstanding honors during the last year were:

James Hughes, who was awarded second place in the state Future Farmer oratorical contest.

Gilbert Meyer, who was given a gold key for the Wisconsin Farmer degree, and was elected vice-president in the State F. F. A. organization. He also attended the national meeting of the F. F. A. as a delegate from Wisconsin.

Willis Ebelt, who won certificate of merit for the best cheese judge in the state.

Harold Reinecke, who was awarded a certificate of merit for the best milk judge in the state.

Harold Hueppchen and Byron La Budde, who were awarded honor pins as leaders in their 4H club projects.

The officers for 1934-35 are the following:

President	James Hughes
Vice-President	Harold Reinecke
Secretary	Darwin Laack
Treasurer	Joe Mayhew
Reporter	Francis Calvey

"Curtain!" The P. H. S. Players held their first meeting after the usual commotion of starting a new school year was over. With a membership of better than three-score persons, they promptly proceeded to elect the above officers.

At a following meeting entertainment committees were appointed for ensuing Dramatic Club meetings which were held twice a month.

On December 4, a belated fall play "Goblin Gold" was successfully presented. Several months later—on March 5, "The Little Clown," the annual spring play was presented by the P. H. S. players.

The Dramatic Club also put on programs at other schools in the Big 8 Conference. During the course of the school year the student body witnessed interesting seasonal programs.

With the exception of a few minor details this summarizes the work of 1935 P. H. S. players and it is time to call "Curtain."

Synopsis

Time—Present

Act I. The "green room" of Jim Anderson's one-ring circus. An evening in Autumn.

Act II. A room in the Beverly home in Beverly Town, Virginia. An evening six months later.

Act III. Same as Act 1. One year later.

The play was a Royalty work of Samuell Franck, and was undoubtly one of the cutest plays presented by the P. H. S. Players.

Special Circus arrangements were played by the High School orchestra under the direction of Mr. Draeger.

Forensics

Forensics again stepped into the limelight when Mr. Novinske, instructor of speech at Manitowoc, announced the following decisions at our local contest: Oratory—The American Infamy—first, William Bade; second, James Hughes. Declamatory—Cutting from Merchant of Venice—first, Lois Senty; second, Joyce Brown. Extemporaneous Reading—first, Carolyn Timm; second, Lois Hubin.

The original Big Eight League was divided into a southern and an eastern group. The southern group consisted of Elkhart Lake, Sheboygan Falls, Kohler, and Plymouth. Several changes in the routine of the contest were: a system of marking by A., B., C., and all participants had the same selections. As a result of the final contest at Sheboygan Falls, Kohler received the cup.

The year 1934-1935 was a red letter one for Plymouth High as we joined the National Forensic League and attended a tournament at Waukesha. We were here represented in Oratory by William Bade; Declamatory, Lois Senty; Extemporaneous Speaking, Robert Suhrke and Elwood Nehrling. Credit should be given our orator, William Bade, as a participant in the semi-final contest.

Junior Prom, 1934

On May 4, a colonial house set amid trees under which were many cozy nooks presented the setting for the first Junior Prom to be held in the new high school gym.

From the rose twined trellises on the porch of the house issued the tuneful strains of Billy Baer and his orchestra as around 200 couples danced beneath the colored lights.

The decoration committee who did such fine work was composed of Elvira Manthei, chairman; Carl Radloff, assistant; Lorraine Skillicorn, Dorothy Radloff, Gertrude Schultz, Armand Ward, Salina Le Mahieu, Bill Bade, Willard Bidlingmaier, Armand Manthei, Nealand Hall.

Harold Miller and Lera Zoberlin, king and queen of the affair led the grand march.

Chaperons were Superintendent and Mrs. W. B. Senty; class advisors, Miss Nelda Miller and A. H. Splitgerber and Mrs. Splitgerber.

The orchestra, under Mr. Draeger's supervision works hard for its many public appearances. Members receive compensation for their efforts in their annual party held in the fall.

The 1934-35 officers were Wayne Pool, president; Edwynna Wittkopp, vice-president; Jack Peebles, secretary-treasurer.

Band

The band, composed of forty-five members, rehearses Tuesday and Wednesday during the sixth period.

The band has various departments, namely: saxophone, trombone, clarinet, baritone, alto, bass, cornet, piccolo, and drums. Under the direction of Mr. Wolff and Mr. Draeger the members have received valuable instruction and experience in instrumental playing.

The band plays for all football and basket-ball games as well as track-meets and each year gives two concerts, one at the park and one in the high school.

The Girls' Glee Club was again successfully organized under the excellent supervision of Miss Arline Luecker. It has become an organization of great credit to our High School.

Membership in the glee club is acquired by those students who can fulfill the requirements in the try-outs given by Miss Luecker.

The girls have shown their ability as a group by their WHBL broadcast and appearances on programs given by the high school.

Big Eight Music Festival

The Big Eight Music Festival is one of the most outstanding events in the school's program of music. It calls forth individual as well as group talent.

The yearly program of music was begun in 1930, always being held at Kohler. Last year it was held at Plymouth and this year it will be held at Kiel.

The first year it was known as the Big Eight Music Contest and was conducted strictly on a competitive basis. The title was then changed to Big Eight Music Festival and the participants are now ranked in classes A, B, or C. This has proven to be more satisfactory as it gives an opportunity for more than one person or group to attain high merits. The persons ranked by the judge as outstanding, perform on the program held the evening of the Festival, while the remaining participants of standing perform a few evenings later on a similar program.

The bands of all the schools represented assemble into one mass band and give a concert preceding the main program of the evening. This is usually conducted by Mr. Winsauer of Kohler, and proves very entertaining to band lovers.

The climax of the festival is the Grand Ensemble or Mass Chorus. This consists of the vocal choruses of the eight high-schools combined into one ensemble. The group is usually directed by the vocal instructor of the school where the contest is held. The song [illegible] beautiful selection suited to mass chorus work.

Plymouth usually has a fine showing, and it is generally understood that we will show our points in a big way this year.

Student Librarians

The work of the student librarians can best be summed up under four principal divisions:

First, the librarian must assist in keeping order in the library at all times. She is the model of good citizenship in the library and works in cooperation with the teacher in charge, to whom she reports any misdemeanors.

Second, she must have a complete knowledge of the contents of each book and magazine in the library, and be able to guide a student in the use of any reference book. She must be able to assist pupils with the card catalogue and therefore must have a complete understanding of it herself.

Third, certain shelves are assigned to her; their appearance and order are her responsibility.

Fourth, the student librarian exercises her originality in arranging attractive library displays to improve the moral, social, intellectual, and aesthetic life of the students.

First semester student librarians were:

Haldis Bredesen, Hazel Warner, Ruth Schwaab, Ione Lorge, Irene Schuette, Clara Rortvedt, Lauretta Ziehr, Jane Rose, Donald Schoenfeld, and Lois Hubin and Beatrice Butler as general assistants.

Biology Club

Under the supervision of Mr. Zimmerman, the Biology Club came into existence this year.

The club hopes to accomplish something in the study of plants and animals and was organized to allow students who have an interest in some phase of biology to work on the project more extensively. The aims of the amateur biologists are to leave some exhibition for the biology department and future student members of the club.

Gordon Winn was elected leader of this group, which meets every Wednesday night.

Alumni

The Plymouth High School Alumni Association met in a business session in the High School library on the afternoon of June 23, 1934. The general business routine was transacted, after which followed election of the officers of the Association, when all former officers were re-elected. A discussion was held and it was decided to have a party in the future instead of a banquet.

In the evening a group of more than two-hundred-fifty members of the association met in the High School Auditorium where they enjoyed a lovely program consisting of musical numbers and speeches. The Plymouth High School Orchestra under the direction of Mr. Draeger opened the program with a musical number. Then followed the address of welcome extended by the President of the Association, Mr. John Wittkopp. A response was given in behalf of the senior class by William Leyhe, Vice-President of the graduating class, in the absence of President Allan Lauterbach. After the speeches the High School Orchestra rendered several musical numbers, followed by a presentation of several numbers by a trio composed of Evelyn Wittkopp, Dorothy Larson, Lily Diedrich.

The principle address of the evening was given by Mayor Rooney who spoke on the school of his day in comparison with the modern schools.

After this address the orchestra rendered a selection which concluded the program. The members of the Association then retreated to the "gym" where they "tripped the light fantastic toe" to the melodious strains of Chet Hoppe's Orchestra.

Pep Club

Undoubtedly the most active, the fastest rising, and of course, the peppiest organization in Plymouth High is the Pep Club; represented by the P. H. S. Cheer-leaders at all football, basketball, and track activities.

The club's purpose is to furnish pep and school spirit at the meeting of athletic organizations. It has charge of refreshments at basketball games and with part of the returns presented the cheer-leaders with uniform suits of orange and black; black corduroy trousers with an orange stripe on each leg, orange sweat shirts with the "Plymouth Panther" emblem across the front, and topped off with black berets and four megaphones. The four cheer-leaders did fine work and a good share of their success is perhaps due to the fact that two of the four were Junior High students.

In addition to the uniforms the Pep Club presented to the school a score-board for use in the gym; and this year added a number of new songs to the cheering-list.

Much of the credit for the success of the Pep Club is due to Miss Winnifred Fritz, who organized and progressed it. Every school has a dramatic club or glee club but they do not all have an organization which leads the school in pep and spirit as does this one.

The Letter Club, an association for boys, has as its purpose the promotion of High School Athletics and encouragement of athletic competition.

To become eligible for membership one must earn one major letter in athletics in one of the following ways: by playing six quarters in a football game; by playing eight quarters in a basketball game; by earning five points in track. Managers of sports also are eligible for a letter when they have served as manager for two years.

The Letter Club initiation, one of the high lights of the many programs presented in the auditorium during the year is put on at the close of each sport. This initiation goes hand in hand with the banquet sponsored by the club for the benefit of the new members.

The Letter Club like other clubs has its officers: Harold Wittkopp, president; Harold Miller, vice-president; Philip Limberg, secretary-treasurer; and also its advisors Mr. Farwell and Mr. Senty.

Dear Ruth
I was wishing you a happy vacation and luck in the future

Football Squad

The foot-ball team of 1934 stands out as the leader in this years conference league. In the capable hands of Coach Jack Farwell and Captain Harold "Hulla" Miller the team of 15 letter men with from three to four years of experience came through with flying colors.

The season began at Sheboygan and although the boys were defeated they walked away with all following games. After their game with Sheboygan they played Menomonee Falls, Sheboygan seconds, Port Washington, Chilton—Plymouth's homecoming and a gala affair in all ways for Plymouth—Cedarburg, and Manitowoc.

A foot-ball trophy was given to the Panthers as a reward for their efforts.

The most overwhelming victory was that with Manitowoc, being the first time in the history of the Plymouth Panthers a game has been won with a score of 60 to 0 in three quarters. The game was called off on account of darkness.

The 1934-35 basketball team as a whole, gave the best showing Plymouth has seen over a long period. In comparison to last year's record the boys made an outstanding comeback and are to be complimented on the excellent style of ball played—as the record shows.

Although five boys, P. Limberg, G. Nicolaus, E. Noel, L. Ribbeck, and G. Schmidt, will be lost to next year's team through graduation, next season's outlook is extremely bright. It will see five lettermen back to fight for their alma mater.

Because the team elected no captain last year, the plan of appointing a new captain for each game was adopted. Next year, however, there are five lettermen eligible for captaincy: C. Blanke, L. Koehler, R. Leonhardt, V. Meerstein, and J. Nelson.

The school appreciates the excellent coaching and spirit put into the games by Coach Farwell.

Track Team, 1934

Second Row — Coach J. Farwell, B. Zinkgraf, E. Weber, J. Hodge, R. Schwaab, O. Zinkgraf.

For the eighth time in as many years the track squad of Plymouth High regained the track championship of the Big Eight.

At the Shorewood meet on May 5th Plymouth took third place, at the district meet at Green Bay Plymouth took 2nd place, and from here the winners were sent to Madison to take part in the state meet.

High point men of Plymouth at the Big 8 were: H. Miller, captain this year; N. Muth, and J. Krueger—who in his first year out for track has made a laudable showing and is the only one of these three who will be back with this year's squad.

Out of the group of boys on the squad this season are five lettermen to fight for the honor of Plymouth High School, and they will no doubt continue to uphold the school's track record.

The squad was very ably coached by Jack Farwell.

Boys' Intra-mural Association

To further an interest in sports, to give every boy the opportunity to participate, and to establish a mutual interest in sport activity were the purposes behind the organization of the Boys' Intra-mural Athletic Association in 1934.

By obtaining an intra-mural ticket with the payment of a small sum and receiving a membership card boys from both Junior and Senior High School were welcomed as members.

The board of control is the governing body of this organization. The members are elected according to their constitution and are the judges upon the violation of any club rules by its members.

This year the organization sponsored touch football, volley ball, basketball, and school wide field day. A number of other activities such as hockey, wrestling, boxing, speedball, track and field, tennis and horse shoe will also be carried on by the club as soon as the field and equipment are ready.

The point system in use here is practiced according to rank and division and gives each outstanding player an award, in addition to promoting competition.

Basketball again lead this year as the most popular sport. The teams played Tuesday, three noon hours a week, and Saturday mornings. Teams are formed out of the members, who are divided into A and B groups, who compete among each other rather than with other schools. They play for championship of their groups and then for championship of all the groups. This year 34 teams competed.

This is the second season of this organization's growth and its popularity continues to increase in the hands of its competent advisor, Jack Farwell.

Girls' Athletic Association

The G. A. A., under the able supervision of Miss Helen Haase, was one of the most active organizations in school during the past year. A new point system was introduced, enabling the girls to earn letters and emblems.

The activities opened in September with soccer, a new game for P. H. S. Soon after the girls began work on track. On November 8, a track and field meet was held and all the girls were required to enter. Those scoring high in the events were placed on class teams. The fall activities also included a roller skating party and a lunch hike.

Winter activities brought an ice skating party and basketball. The following class basketball managers were elected: Senior, Helen DeZwarte; Junior, La Vern Lange; Sophomore, Dorothea Arsenault; Freshmen, Rosemary Corbett. After several practice games, A and B teams were chosen. Each team fought hard for the championships, which went to the Seniors in the B tournament and to the Sophomores in the A tournament.

Volleyball will be played in the spring and will be followed by baseball.

Those who took part in the A basketball tournament are:

FRESHMEN—Ruth Brautgam, Virginia Dick, Esther Graef, Phyllis Ladewig, Jean Kassebaum, Paula Swart, Dorothy Reick, Vivian Lisowe, Fern Koehler, Rosemary Corbett.

A LESSON IN GRAMMAR

Earl Noel sees a beautiful girl walking down the street. She is, of course, feminine. She is singular, and he becomes nominative. He walks across to her; changes the verbal and then becomes dative. He walks home with her. Her mother is accusative and he becomes imperative. Her brother is an indefinite article. Earl walks in and sits down. He talks of the future and changes to the direct object. Her father becomes present and poor Earl becomes the past participle.

IDEAL CHUMS

My Sweetie has a lot of speed—
She fills a fellow's every need.
She's ready to go out each nite;
And how she sparks—well, she's all right!
And has she got a lot of style?
Her lines are graceful—worth your while.
I leave her sometimes—she doesn't care.
When I return, she's always there.
You think I mean a female pal?
Gosh, No! My auto is my gal!

Junior High Council

The Junior High Council is composed of two members from each class, eight in all.

The eight council members with the president, and chairman of all committees, teachers and Mr. Zimmerman nominate three candidates for president. These candidates are selected according to their scholastic ability and leadership. Each candidate gives a campaign speech before the student body. The person who receives the greatest number of votes is elected president; the person who receives the second greatest number of votes becomes Chairman of All Committees. The council members, officers, and Mr. Zimmerman meet on Tuesdays during the auditorium period.

The social and extra curricular activi ies of the Junior High are in the hands of the Decoration, Party and Program Committees. As there is always some expense connected with a program of this type, we have a special group, the Budget Committee, which arranges for the payment of a small fee to cover these expenses.

We have found during the course of the year that our committees have carried on their work in a most efficient manner.

Forensics

This year Kohler again acted as host to the Big Eight Junior High School Reading Contest and thirty-five very enthusiastic students entered for competition. After having two elimination contests, judges selected the following to represent our school at Kohler.

EXTEMFORANEOUS

Gloria Vick (first)
Margaret Luecker (alternate)

ORATORY

Harold Steinke (first)
Kenneth Stoffen (alternate)

READING

Ruth Ross (first)
Marjorie Senty (alternate)

Miss Austria, Miss Huff, and Miss Lanke coached the speakers. The material for the Extemporaneous contest was taken from Rugg's "An Introduction to American Civilization." Eight well known poems were read by the girls who entered the Reading Contest, and orations selected by the contestants were given by the Orators.

Intra-Mural Basketball

Every Saturday morning from 9 until 12 o'clock the high school gymnasium is used by freshmen, seventh and eighth graders and boys who come from other schools for the purpose of training for basketball. These boys are divided into two groups, A and B classes. The A class consists of boys who have had some experience in basketball, and the B class of boys who have had little or no experience. There are four teams in the A and three teams in the B class. The Intra-Mural practices are under the care of Mr. Zimmerman.

Junior High Basketball

Under the guidance of Mr. Zimmerman the Junior High has been fortunate in having an active basketball team. The boys schedule games with other teams and play as enthusiastically as any professional team. They work hard so that they may enter the Junior High Tournament held at Port Washington. Last year Plymouth winning two games and losing one brought back the consolation emblems. Schools from this district compete for these honors. This year Plymouth received third place in the tournament.

This season two teams, one composed of ten eighth graders and the other of seventh graders, carried us to victory. The majority of the team of eighth graders are boys who had been out for practice last year. They played a very successful season winning 7 and losing 6 games.

The other team composed of seventh graders are boys out for practice for the first time and will probably make up next year's team. They also play with other schools and returned the victors of three games.

Advertising & Illustration
Perhaps you are too close to your own business to realize how colorful it is — how attractive to others your business message can be made.
Attractive and proper illustration will go far to make your advertising effective.
Our Art Staff is capable of the best in Commercial Illustration and our modern plant produces plates that do credit to our artists efforts.

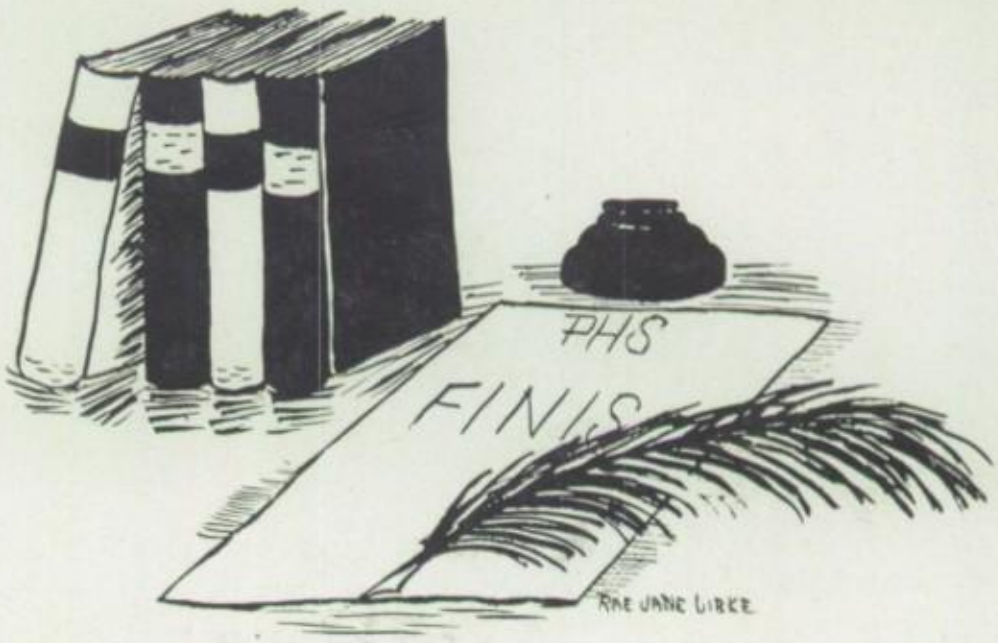
APPRECIATION

We dedicate this section to the group of business and professional men who so generously contributed and willingly did their part towards making the financial end of the 1935 Quit-Qui-Oc successful.

We appreciate knowing we have such loyal supporters and feel sure they will not fail following Quit-Qui-Oc staffs.

In response to their assistance we ask that all readers patronize these firms.



Miss Ya Budde,

Although you were a bit irritating at times,
I guess its your ways.
Success.

Yandish

Love
Eddie Gulls
